

SGX launches new securities settlement and depository system, T+2 securities settlement cycle from 10 December

Singapore Exchange (SGX) will be launching a new securities settlement and depository framework and system on 10 December 2018, enabling a shorter securities settlement cycle of two days (T+2) and simultaneous settlement of money and securities. View SGX updates here.